Waiter guide

Tausi POS at `[BUSINESS NAME]`. Keep this by the counter.

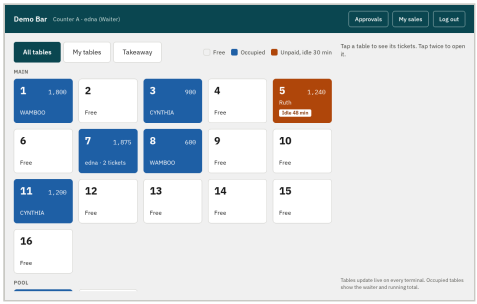

1. Log in

Type your own PIN on the pad. Every item you add and every void is recorded under your name, so never use someone else's PIN. To leave, press Log out (top right). The screen also logs you out by itself after a few minutes without use.

2. The tables

- White: free. Blue: open, with the waiter and the running total. Orange: not paid and idle for a while. Go and check on it.
- Tap a table to see its tickets; tap it again to open it. A free table opens a new ticket.
- My tables shows only yours; Takeaway is for customers without a table.

3. Take the order

Choose a category on the left, then tap an item. A drink with a choice asks first: Cold or Warm. Pick one, set the quantity, and press Add.

New items show New until they are printed. Tap a line to change its quantity or remove it while it is still new.

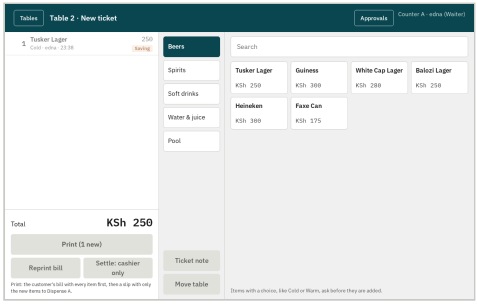

4. Print

Press Print. It does two things, in this order:

1. The customer's bill, with every item on the ticket and the total. Take it to the table.
2. A slip for the counter with only the new items, so the barman pours just those.

For the next round, add the new items and press Print again: a new full bill, and a slip with only the new round. Items left as New have not gone to the counter: press Print before you walk away.

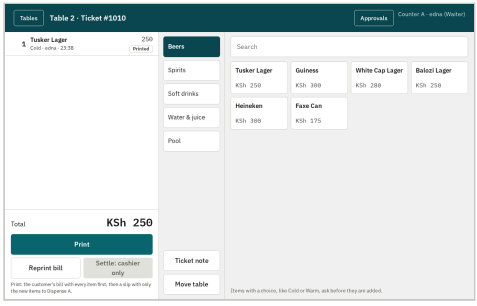

5. A mistake after printing: Void

Tap the printed line, then Void. Choose the reason and say whether it was already poured. Then:

- Supervisor here? They type their PIN on the pad and press Approve.
- Supervisor elsewhere? Press Send void request. It waits on the ticket until they approve it on their own counter.

A VOID slip goes to the counter and a corrected bill prints by itself.

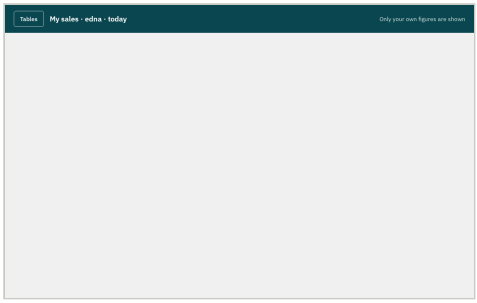

6. Getting paid

Only the cashier settles. Take the cash or show the M-Pesa message to the cashier; they record that you brought it.

7. My sales

My sales (top of the tables screen) shows your sales today, the money you brought to the cashier, and any bills still open on your name. Check it before you go home; you can print your slip.

If something goes wrong

- "Not connected" at the top: wait; it reconnects by itself. If an item says was not added, add it again when the banner goes.
- "Not printed · Retry": press Retry. If it fails again, tell the supervisor.
